Over 11+ years in design, I've moved from crafting interfaces to shaping how design teams operate. I coordinating cross-squad design across multiple product area, coaching designers on craft and career growth, and embedding research and governance into how teams work.

At Nab, I've shifted design from execution partner to strategic contributor, and I'm ready to take full ownership of that leadership role. Currently pursuing a Master's in UX & Service Design, and recognised as top 30% mentor on ADPList across Vietnam, Australia, and United States.
